

RebelsFunding Prop-Firm Company

A unique company originating from the heart of Europe - Slovakia, offering opportunities for traders from all over the world.

About us

RebelsFunding is a prop-trading company offering trading programs where traders, if they meet the requirements without violating the rules and can demonstrate their ability to trade safely in the market, will receive RCF capital.

The company boasts an open, friendly community, with professional customer support being one of its top priorities to ensure customers feel safe and well-informed at all times.

What makes our company special is the close contact of the RebelsFunding team with customers and the creation of a strong world-wide community of traders - called "Rebels" and RF-Trader platform.

Team members

RebelsFunding boasts a team of sixteen dedicated members who handle everything from managing social media to customer support communication.

The entire team is divided into two main sections. One team is responsible for managing social media and customer support communication, while the other focuses on website management, client areas, and SEO marketing. Additionally, a small base internal development team handles automation processes, and an external development team from FDCtech provides platform support and innovations., while the other section focuses on website management, client area, and SEO marketing.

Trading Competition

The RebelsFunding trading competition serves as a valuable tool for identifying and uncovering any potential errors or bugs within our platform. By hosting such competitions, we rigorously test the performance of our servers and overall platform functionality under high-demand scenarios. Additionally, these competitions provide an opportunity for traders to engage in friendly competition, hone their skills, and potentially earn rewards or recognition for their trading prowess. Through participation in these events, both traders and our development team gain valuable insights that contribute to the ongoing improvement and optimization of the RF-Trader platform, ensuring a seamless and efficient trading experience for all users.

Summary

RebelsFunding has been diligently crafting the RF-Trader platform from the outset, and it remains a unique project in which the platform evolves day by day, becoming better and better with each improvement.

Additionally, crucial for us is the collaboration with FDC and its team, which has ensured the platform's progress thus far and the subsequent enhancements. The close communication between our team and the FDC team is the cornerstone of further advancement for our entire company.
